ATCM 2023 AGM Academic Conference

The Association of Traditional Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture UK (ATCM) will hold its annual conference and academic symposium in Manchester on the 7th and 8th, October 2023. This symposium will focus on the promotion and application of innovative acupuncture techniques, tuina techniques, and the traditional Chinese medicine (TCM) treatment of intractable conditions. We have invited the founders, inheritors of innovative acupuncture techniques and experienced clinical experts to give speeches and demonstrations on site. Additionally, we will organize a Reward Evening for ATCM members, providing more opportunities for networking and interaction among participants. All ATCM members and TCM Professionals are warmly welcomed.
